fund, the Community Division, will be launched on January 13. The minimum goal set for this campaign is $500,000. The drive will be directed toward law school alumni, as well as selected non-alumni friends.

It is anticipated, said Mr. Burke that ground breaking for the new center will take place sometime between mid and late spring this year. The completion of the building is scheduled to be 20 months following the beginning of construction.

The four largest gifts to date have been the following: The Gund Foundation, $1,500,000; The Cleveland Foundation, $250,000;

Government, $900,000.

Mr. Gerald W. Janousek, director of the University Medical Center Development Committee, indicated a cost of 38 million dollars for the complex which will house the Schools of Medicine, Dentistry, and Nursing.

At the present time, the building fund is short of its goal by 2.5 million dollars. Contributions to the fund have been made by private individuals, trustees, corporations and various foundations. The U.S. Government has given funds for construction and the University Circle Development Foundation is
